The history rich in tradition:

Thermal baths have long been a source of natural wellness. For thousands of years, ancient cultures have relied on thermal waters for their various therapeutic properties. In Hungary, thermal baths have been traditionally used at home for a variety of health-related conditions and for general body care.

This Hungarian tradition was turned into an exclusive collection of spa & home use therapeutic thermal bath products for bath and body. The Thermal Natural Life collection has been developed to offer more than a pampering experience. It has been formulated to contribute to your universal well-being by offering a comprehensive body care regimen. The mineral components contained in the individual Thermal Natural Life products are derived from thermal water of spa Bük known to possess therapeutic benefits. The Thermal Natural Life is a unique collection of body and skin care treatments that allows everyone to indulge themselves in the tradition of a Hungarian spa, thus helping to meet the demands of a busy lifestyle. What makes this collection one-of-a-kind is its strong concentration of the thermal minerals and trace elements needed to effectively cleanse and condition the skin while helping to remineralize deficient cells. The minerals and trace elements found in each product help to relax the surface tension of the skin, allowing the pores to more readily absorb the product's beneficial ingredients.

Now you can enjoy all the positive health benefits of Hungary's thermal waters at home.

Bük Thermal Natural Fitness Liquid (3 in 1)

The Bük Thermal Natural Life product-family is an exclusive collection of spa & home use therapeutic thermal bath products for bath and body. The mineral components contained in each Thermal Natural Life products are derived from thermal water of the Hungarian spa Bük, famous for its therapeutic benefits all over Europe.

Bük Natural Fitness Liquid (3 in 1) bath therapy at home

All members of the Bük Thermal Natural Fitness Liquid bath products contain thermal water of Bük, which is rich in trace elements and biological materials. Its efficiency is due to the minerals salts – essential for the organism – absorbed during bathing that nourish the skin and help the recreation of the body. Certain sections of the bath therapy contain various volatile oils, which exert their beneficial influence through the skin.

The bath therapy consists of three phases:

Preparation phase (blue flasks): The tense muscles relax, the organism prepare for the cure. The bath additive contains lavender volatile oil which relaxes the muscles.

Curing or active phase (orange flasks): The musket sage oil solves the limitation of motion, decreases the tenseness of muscles, refreshes and strengthens in case of weakness and depression.

Final phase (green flasks): During the final phase of the bath therapy the product contains myrtle oil, which stabilizes the reassured state, thus the therapy reaches its full benefits.

Directions for use: Pour a flask (30ml) of Bük Thermal Natur Fitness Liquid refreshing bath additive into a bath with body temperature. The duration of the bath should be about 15-20 minutes. The content of one flask is enough for one bath. One box contains all the bottles necessary for one treatment. In order to achieve the required effect, use of the products every second day and according to the pre-scribed order is recommended.
